A WEBLYTICA CO-BUILDING OFFER

Your Business in a Project

Out of the box, AI knows nothing about your business. We load your voice, your services, and your documents into a structured Claude setup, so from the first question, the answers sound like you.

HOW THE OFFER WORKS

1 Gather What Defines You
Your services, pricing approach, FAQs, and the writing that sounds most like you, collected in one working session.

2 Build the Project
We structure it all into a Claude project with instructions that teach the AI your business and your rules.

3 Test It on Real Work
You throw real tasks at it: an email, a quote, a customer question. We tune until the output needs no rewriting.

4 Hand You the Keys
You learn how to update it yourself as your business changes, so it never goes stale.

WHAT GOES IN, WHAT COMES OUT

What Goes In

- Your brand voice and how you talk to customers
- Services, pricing logic, and your FAQs
- The documents your answers should draw from

Your business, organized where AI can use it.

What Comes Out

- Emails and documents that sound like you wrote them
- Consistent answers no matter who on the team asks
- First drafts that start ninety percent done

No more re-explaining your business every chat.

WHAT YOU WALK AWAY WITH

- ✓ A Claude setup built around your business, ready on day one
- ✓ Output in your voice without re-prompting every time
- ✓ Instructions and documents the whole team can share
- ✓ The know-how to keep it current yourself

HOW SESSIONS WORK

Live working sessions over screen share, on your account and your real materials. You drive the keyboard, we guide the way, so you can rebuild any of it without us. No technical background required.

Ready to Teach AI Your Business?

We build with you, not for you.
